VARSITY

Coach Bud Finger and his varsity golf team experienced a heavy loss in Jim McCarthy, who won the Heist National Junior Championship. Jim, who broke his leg while skiing, was the number one man on the team and an asset in every match. The team is now composed of the three top men, Warren Dailey, Fred Brown, and Grant Spaeth, who all shoot par or better after three years of experience on the team; Phil Getchill and Charles Van Linge also shot under par; and Bib Sims in the number six spot. Vieing for the coveted seventh position are Bob Barnes, John Pearson, Bill Irwin, Ray Sillman, Bob Barneson, Oliver Thornton, Jim Coleman, and Craig Callahan. While there is a crimp in top golfers due to inexperience, there are some good men coming along. For instance, Phil Getchill who won the Oregon High School Scholastic Golf Championship while in high school. And there are plenty of others who show just as much promise, if they get the much needed experience.

Coach Finger had his team play against three of the best teams on the Pacific Coast early in the season for experience. Lake Merced, the San Francisco Police Department, and the California Golf Club, led by some of the west coast's best golfers, won their matches; but the team as a whole gained much experience and the individuals found a confidence in themselves that helped them win the Southern Division Golf Championship for the fourth straight year under the able coaching of Bud Finger, with USC the only strong contender against them. Promise of this victory was certain when the boys romped to their first two victories against Fresno State and Cal Poly, and then went on to burn up the fairways for the Southern Division Championship Cup. As expected the team went on to the NCAA tournament, continuing to win as they gained a high national ranking.
