

GOLF

Undefeated in early match play, the Indian golfers appeared headed for a successful season despite the loss of several key men in an automobile accident. The Stanford linksters, coached by Bud Finger, entered competition with a $19\frac{1}{2}$ - $7\frac{1}{2}$ conquest of the Peninsula Golf and Country Club and followed this with other victories over San Francisco State, Fresno State, College of the Pacific, and the Sunnyside Country Club of Fresno. The 27-0 defeat of COP highlighted this series of matches. Ron Preston, Kent Winton, Bernie Magnussen, Jack Lamey, Woodgie Reich, and Mike Shanahan paced the Tribe through these early matches.

Back on the greens after a serious auto accident, Bob Snelling watches the progress of his ten-foot putt.

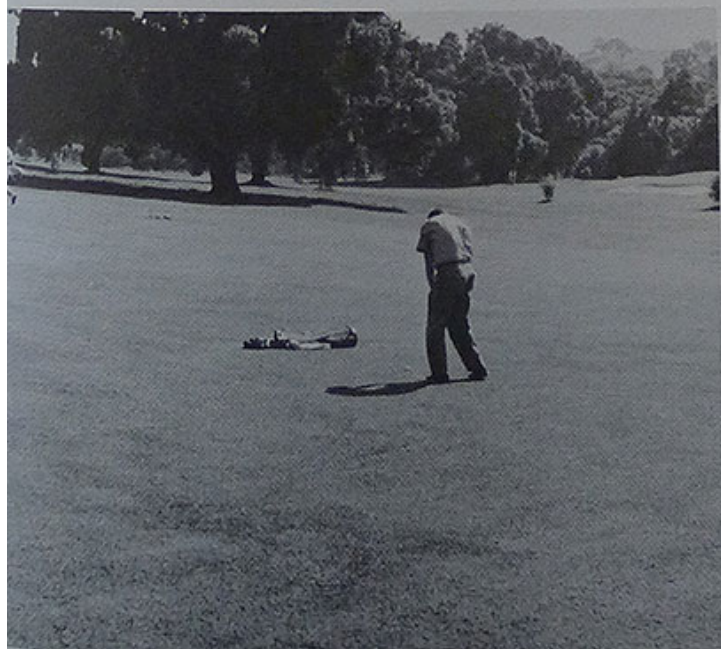

A clear day and a beautiful fairway become an inviting challenge to Ron Preston as he tees off against Santa Clara.

With the flag in sight, Bob Snowing is in a hurry to get out of that sand.

Left to Right, Row One: Phil Underwood, Bob Snowing, Mike Shanahan, Jim Kardis. Row Two: Coach Bud Finger, Woodgie Reich, Lee McGuire, Kent Winton, Jack Lehmy, Ron Preston, Steve Smith.

The rolling links and great oaks seem to dwarf the golfer and lend a sense of peace.

Coach Bud Finger takes time out from a busy professional schedule to direct the Stanford golf teams.

Left to Right, Row One: Mike Kuhlman, Tony Brown, Mike Wells. Row Two: Coach Bud Finger, Pete Choate, Hugh Skinner, Bill Farish.

GOLF

The Frosh golfers opened their season with a 10-5 win over Oakland Junior College on the Stanford course and looked as if they would be able to take their place in the Indians' long line of fine freshmen teams. Pete Choate was especially outstanding as he fired a blazing 69 for the Papoose squad. The experience gained by the golfers should help them in future work with the varsity.